President's message

Coaching Santa Claus

I woke up this morning and for some reason, I began thinking about Santa Claus and all he has on his plate this month ... aside from cookies! Then I started to wonder if Santa Claus has a coach. You know, someone to cheer him on as the season of giving approaches? Santa needs motivation just like the rest of us, especially during stressful, busy times. He is certainly a good manager, organizing all the elves to do their jobs with clear instructions and no worries about getting "sacked" for poor performance. They are a great team and great teams have great coaches!

What would it take for you to become Santa's coach?

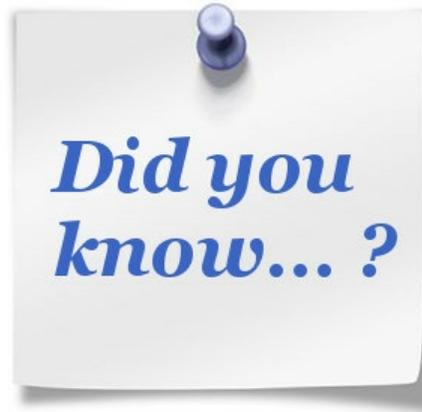

1. A desire to make a difference in the lives of others
2. Empathy, patience and a solid educational foundation
3. Quality coach training and mentoring
4. Skills to work with busy individuals and teams
5. Experience in coaching for change
6. Availability to coach Santa in December
7. Confidence in yourself and in your coaching ability
8. The ability to laugh and be jolly!

To all my friends and colleagues in the ACTO community and beyond, I wish you peace, joy and laughter during this holiday season and in the new year!

Warmly,
Jodi

Topic: Getting Naked (with your Clothes on) Going Deeper in Coaching Conversations.

This forum is FREE for members. Members must login to access the Member Registration link CCE approval pending

Presenter: Dr. Patrick Williams, MCC

Date: Jan 22, 2020, 8AM PST/11AM EST

Curiosity is the secret sauce in great coaching and great living...This Getting Naked approach is to get beneath the obvious and that which is easily shared or brought to consciousness...This is about Courageous vulnerability modeled by the coach and evoked from the client. the focus in emotional learning and sharing what holds or has held one back. with the coach as a committed listener and the client achieving trust and intimacy, things can be shared and transformed that may not be comfortably shared elsewhere. If we are going to teach EQ, then we need to do something with the Emotional intelligence that is discovered.

Getting Naked (with your clothes on) will demonstrate and offer clear ways to incorporate appropriate self-disclosure in coaching. Leading to truly authentic conversations, you will learn how to 'go deeper' or under the surface assisting the client in sharing 'naked truths' about wants, blocks, challenges, and help them say what they have not said and think what they have not thought and increase awareness by sharing with you the coach what they may not be comfortable sharing with others.

All of this is to lead to emotional learning and increased awareness, leading to optimal living for the client.

Coaches will also discern how much they should self-disclose and when is it helpful. A look at current research and essays by leading corporations will be shared about this process of courageous vulnerability and the power of transparency and honesty at the right time, place and with the right person.

Hacer una exploración a partir de la metáfora que hay en el título de esta presentación.

hay algo más allá de lo que puedes ver, oler, degustar y palpar.

El poder de la presencia te permite ir más allá de lo que puedes imaginar.

lo que creo se convierte en aquello que puedo crear.

La confianza absoluta en las personas y sus múltiples capacidades permiten desde un diálogo interno hacer preguntas que generen direcciones de éxito. cuando dar El Paso al vacío es tu mejor opción.

La intuición es una llave que abre puertas para caminar en terrenos desconocidos que generan múltiples aprendizajes que nunca pueden olvidarse.

Mantén tu rostro hacia la luz del sol y no verás la sombra.
