President's Message

Legacy Planning – What's in Your Future?

Have you ever wondered what you would do with your coach training organization and associated intellectual property, a.k.a. your life's work, if, and when, you decide to take a different path in your life? While I don't see retirement in my future, I do think about lightening my load to allow for more time for family, friends, leisure time and self-care.

Where do you see yourself in 2, 5 or 10 years?

New at the ACTO Conference This Year: Process Groups

By Jason Veliquette

I remember my first ACTO conference in Orlando in 2014. I was a brand-new coach trainer and feeling a bit out of place and in over my head. In my brief stint as a coach trainer, I had started to learn the names of some of the pioneers of coach training. And many of them were here on this hot and humid Florida morning as I checked in. I was nervous and excited at the same time. I remember as I started to interact with people, I sensed a warmth and care, and sense of belonging. Then during one of the speakers' presentations, I was partnered with Peter Reding in an exercise. He a founding member of ACTO and I a brand-new coach trainer. I promptly asked him to be the coach in the exercise. And it was an awesome experience for me. Besides being coached by a master, he made me feel included in the ACTO community.
